Ayudha Puja tomorrow

- CM Yediyurappa to inaugurate Jumboo Savari on Oct.8
- City teeming with tourists, thanks to long weekend

Mysuru, Oct.6 (MTY&BCT)- Ayudha Puja, also called 'Astra Puja' or 'worship of weapons' will be celebrated in city tomorrow, the ninth day of Navaratri.

Vijayadashami, marking the culmination of the 10-day Dasara festival, will be celebrated the day after, on Oct.8 where the grand procession and the ceremonial Torchlight Parade will be held.

Mysuru city is sporting a bridal look with illumination around 90-kilometre area. The city is teeming with tourists and ever since the festivities began on Sept.29, there has been a steady flow of tourists.

Tourist arrival peaked yesterday due to long weekend stretching till Tuesday.

Even intermittent rain and the resultant traffic jams during the night have not deterred tourists who are crowding the streets to see all the hues.

This morning, thousands of people came to the temporary and permanent markets set up across the city to purchase puja items and despite spiralling prices of flowers, banana stalk and ash gourd, people bought sufficient quantities of the necessities.

Vehicle owners were seen queuing up in front of service stations to get their vehicles washed and cleaned for the auspicious occasion.

10,000 Policemen to guard city

Speaking to Star of Mysore this morning, DCP (Law and Order) M. Muthuraj said that apart from the existing 3,500-strong City Police force, more than 6,500 Policemen have been brought to maintain law and order. They include SPs, Dy.SPs and Inspectors.

This apart, teams from Anti-Sabotage units, Bomb Squads and Dog Squads are on special duty.

The precautionary measures have been taken based on the directives from Chief Minister B.S. Yediyurappa and City Police Commissioner K.T. Balakrishna.

All Officers and Constables are briefed daily at City Armed Reserve (CAR) Grounds. The Anti-Sabotage teams and Bomb Squads have been checking the Jumboo Savari route from Palace to Bannimantap.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

It's good to have friends, but in politics your adversaries are often your best allies. Two bhakts animatedly discussing the irresistible rise of their idolised leader.

1st bhakt: Our Netaji is far smarter than all the other so-called netas put together.

2nd bhakt: You bet he is. While all those other would-be netas are trying to find friends to form mahagathbandhans and what have you, our Netaji has understood that in politics having the best of enemies is far better than having the best of friends.

1st bhakt: Too true. And our Netaji has been very smart — and also very lucky — in the enemies he's got and who have proved to be, in fact, his best allies who have helped to get him where he is and are still busily working to see that he stays there.

2nd bhakt: You're right. He's been both smart and lucky in the enemies he's got for himself.

1st bhakt: He couldn't have got better enemies if he tried. Look at that first lot, who sat on the country's gaddi almost uninterruptedly for 70-odd years and did absolutely zilch for the people, despite all that repeated talk of 'Garibi hatao.'

2nd bhakt: Yup. Our Netaji couldn't have had better enemies than that. Thanks to the legacy the dynasty left behind, it practically handed him his job on a platter.

1st bhakt: That it did. And in the latest addition to the dynasty, our Netaji couldn't have had a better opponent who'll ensure our Netaji's victory.

2nd bhakt: Indeed. Every time our Netaji sees his adversary's Hand he should give it a high five for helping him win. Though the Hand should probably call itself the Foot, because every time the latest dynastic addition opens his mouth he puts his foot in it.

1st bhakt: But now our Netaji has found himself an even better enemy who is really his best ally in disguise and is giving him ammo for a surgical strike victory.

2nd bhakt: You mean …?

1st bhakt: Exactly. Our Netaji's best of enemies who'll help him become PM again is now Imranji …

Zoo-Keeper loses leg to a bear, begs animal be pardoned

Ussuriysk: A Zoo Keeper who lost one of her legs to a caged bear has been pleading with authorities to spare the animal, claiming that it wasn't to blame for the tragic accident.

On Sept. 25, experienced zoo keeper and animal activist Vera Blishch was instructing a new colleague at the Municipal Zoo in Ussuriysk when a bout of vertigo made her lean towards a bear cage for just a split second. Manyunya, a 20-year-old female bear, grabbed the zoo-keeper's leg. She suffered severe injuries, including multiple fractures, and eventually needed to have her leg amputated below the knee at a Ussuriysk hospital. Knowing that animals that attack people are put down to eliminate the risk of them attacking other humans, Blishch's first concern upon waking from her surgery anesthesia was for Manyunya's well-being, insisting that the bear was not to blame. The Russian Investigative Committee launched an investigation and a decision on Manyunya's fate remains to be made.

Today's Deity : Chandi
Discourse by His Holiness

Carācaravicinmayīm sakala hṛnmayīm cinmayīm
Guṇatrayamayīm jagatrayamayīm tridhāmāmayīm
Parāparamayīm sadā daśadiśām niśāharmayīm
Parām satata sanmayīm paramacinmayīm śilayē

I meditate upon the Supreme Mother who manifests in the form of all the animate and inanimate objects in this creation; who considers the hearts of all entities to be Her heart; who is illumining as the embodiment of consciousness (chit); who manifests in the form of the three attributes; who has the three worlds as Her forms; who manifests in the form of the waking, dream and deep-sleep states; who is both para and apara; who retains the 10 directions, the night and day as Her forms and who is Pure consciousness.

Mother Goddess takes on the name 'Mamata-hantri', for, She frees the devotees from the shackles known as attachments. Attachment implies having feelings of 'I, mine, this belongs to me'. Attachment causes us to utter, 'My body, my house' and the like. Such feelings actually bind the person. They prevent him from performing good deeds. They stop him from focusing upon the Supreme entity. Lifelong they torment the person.

Attachment becomes the biggest obstacle in the supreme path. In order to destroy feelings of 'I-ness' it is imperative to obtain Self-Knowledge. Who is to be worshipped to obtain this knowledge? The Divine Mother, who is the form of Sadguru and who shatters our attachments needs to be worshipped.

Referring to attachment, Lord Krishna says in Bhagavad Gita, 'Na me dveshto sti na priyah'. I pervade everyone equally. As such, neither do I have attachment to any particular entities nor hatred towards others. There is none whom I like and none whom I dislike'.

The devotees who worship the Mother Goddess seeking to shatter attachment, reside in Her. She resides in them.

To get rid of attachment is no easy task! To get rid of it, it is imperative to perceive the Mother Goddess as pervading the entire creation! She must be visualized as the form of the universe. Only then the attachment ceases to exist in the person.

Emperor Bali was filled with feelings of 'I-ness'. Lord Vishnu then manifested before him in his gigantic form. Bali then realized, 'Nothing belongs to me. Everything is His alone'. With this, he developed implicit devotion towards the Lord and earned His grace.

'I am the doer of all actions'- it is ignorance that leads to such egoistic thoughts to emerge in the person. As Jnanada, Supreme Mother bestows the real knowledge upon the person and shatters such ignorance.

One who is ripened in knowledge like Prahlada is no longer tormented by attachments. There is an anecdote in Mahabharata that highlights this essence.

Once, Lord Indra visited Prahlada and was astonished to see him. He asked, 'O best among devotees! You do not have any wealth, yet you do not seem to be unhappy. You are free from the worries that enemies will destroy your wealth. Even when faced with unimaginable difficulties and sorrows, you remain unperturbed and calm. How could you master this state? What are the austerities to be performed to reach this state? Please be kind enough to elaborate'.

'O Indra' said Prahlada, 'I do not allow the thoughts, 'this exists, that does not exist' to enter into my mind. Neither in the performance of good deeds nor in the performance of bad deeds do I have feelings 'I am the doer'. If the individual entity was truly the performer of the deed, he should have obtained fruit for every deed performed by him. But it is not so. The fruits are showered only as per the dictates of destiny. Since I firmly believe that the Lord bestows upon me what I need, in accordance to the situation, I never face any defeat or humiliation.

Irrespective of whether we put in efforts or not, if money is destined, it will come. A person who is unattached to the wealth remains unperturbed by its presence. Hence, I too abide by that principle. Only the person who has attachment towards wealth experiences joys and sorrows due to them. I stay away from such attachments.

Our actions alone are responsible for our friends and enemies to arise in our life. Similar is the case with the victories and defeats. I keep reminding myself that 'none of these belong to me'. Therefore, attachment cannot bind me.

'All living entities are impermanent. All this is subject to destruction'- I have this knowledge which at every moment I apply in life. With an untainted mind I perceive the entire creation as a form of my Self. Due to this I do not face any inconvenience. I cannot be bound by attachments.

Indra was satisfied with this answer. He bowed to Prahlada before returning to his abode.

Those who adopt the principles taught by Prahlada are bound to attain victory over attachments. Hold on to the feet of the Divine Mother, for, She is the one who dispels all attachments. Hence, She is glorified as Mohanashini. Due to the knowledge showered by Her, all forms of attachments and delusions are shred.

Walk on the path recommended by Her. Listen to Her commands and abide by them. With this, the knowledge, 'This is real and this is unreal' will emerge in us.

May her grace enable each of you to obtain the knowledge of your true Self. May you all obtain the fortune of having Her darshan!

VOICE OF THE READER

Dasara illumination: Enjoy a safe ride

Sir,

Every day many two-wheeler riders are allowing their kids, sometimes well grownup kids to stand on the vehicle seats while riding (see photo) to enable them to see Dasara illumination.

This includes babies of less than a year. I do not know whether such small kids can understand what illumination is all about.

In one such case, there was no elderly person in the rear seat even to hold the boy. This is against road safety rules. Hence, I cautioned the parents in many such cases. Some obliged and some did not heed to my advice.

In some countries children are not allowed on two-wheelers and in some other countries, children are allowed to be taken on two-wheeler only when they are fastened with safety belt to the rider. It is in their interest, all the parents are advised not to allow their kids to stand on the moving vehicle.

If parents are so interested to show lighting to their kids, they can park their vehicles and come to the Circle to show it. People should pro-actively stop this practice instead of repenting if some unfortunate thing happens due to carelessness.

Dasara Pass row refuses to die down

Mysuru, Oct.6 (SPN&DM)- The dharna by Congress and JD(S) Corporators in front of City Corporation protesting against the District Administration's decision to issue only five passes each to Corporators for watching Dasara Procession and Torchlight Parade, entered Day-2 today.

Former Minister and MLA S.R. Mahesh, former MLA M.K. Somashekar, JD(S) leader Abdulla and other top leaders from both the parties visited the protestors to express their support.

As the protest continued, ADC B.R. Poornima visited the protest site this morning and made attempts to convince the Corporators to withdraw the stir.

Former Mayor M.J. Ravikumar is said to have told the ADC that the MCC Pourakarmikas will stop cleaning works from tomorrow.

The Corporators also vented out their ire against the District Minister V. Somanna and MP Pratap Simha saying that the two take responsibility for cleaning operations from tomorrow.

Mayor Pushpalatha Jagannath addressing the protesting Corporators last night, said that District Minister V. Somanna, in a Dasara meeting earlier, had assured that the Corporators will be given a fair deal and had sought full co-operation.

Following Somanna's request, all the Corporators extended their co-operation. But the District Administration has caused injustice to the Corporators by issuing only five passes each, which is unfair, she said.

Maintaining that all Corporators have contributed their mite for the success of Dasara events and 'Mane-Mane Dasara,' she urged the District Minister and the Administration to listen to the grievances of the Corporators regarding Dasara passes.

The Corporators raised slogans against V. Somanna, accusing him of failing to keep his word.

Deputy Mayor Shafi Ahmed, Corporator SBM Manju, former Mayor Ayub Khan and others were present.

Miscreants steal LED bulbs, serial lights used for Dasara illumination

Mysuru, Oct.6 (SBD&US)- Dasara illumination has been the most appreciated part of the festival with the main thoroughfares of the city, circles and buildings dazzling with elegant lighting as dusk sets in. However, a few crooked miscreants with perverted mind have allegedly begun to steal the LED bulbs and serial set lights hung and wound around tree trunks once the illumination is switched off.

The miscreants obviously target places with less movement of people. In fact, a few people passing on roads mistake the miscreants for technicians doing some repair work. The Cops too will be busy focusing on security at Aahara Mela, Flower Show, Mysore Palace and other prominent places thus making it easy for the miscreants to do what they want to.

CESC personnel have expressed their inability to secure the illumination on account of the vast area covered and Police too cannot be blamed as they have to attend to other major security works.

The people have appealed the miscreants not to fall prey to perversions but enjoy the colourful ambience with an open mind.

A Ride of Royalty

By Shadan Muneer

Dasara is that time of the year when Mysuru skies take on varied hues, streets across the city dazzle with beautiful decor, festivities galore and the excitement is palpable at every shining corner. Mysuru lives up to its sobriquet of Royal City and Dasara is the best time of the year to re-live the glory and splendour of the bygone era.

If you vicariously felt like a royal during the visit to the majestic Mysore Palace, do make sure to take a ride in Tonga that toggles your ride between the majesty of yesteryears and the marvels of today. The carriages (buggies), elegantly drawn by majestic equines, ensure that the reminiscence of the royal kingdom is witnessed partly at least.

JOY RIDES

Mysuru is among the few places where Tongas still exist. They have a long history, dating back to the Maharajas when horse-drawn Tongas were the preferred mode of transport. Now used only for joy rides, Tongas are fun, cheaper to hire and eco-friendly. There are 40 Tongas and 20 Sarots that operate within the city. Sarots, also called 'Victoria', have four wheels and can carry up to eight people. Tonga or 'Mysore Shah Pasand Tonga' are two-wheeled, can load up to four people and are pulled by a relatively small horse.

INTEGRAL TO TOURISM

The Sarots, introduced by Nalwadi Krishna Raja Wadiyar, during his reign have since been an integral part of Mysore tourism. The business of these tongawallas peaks during Dasara. A Sarot costs around Rs. 3 lakh and the sturdy horses that pull these carriages cost between Rs. 1 lakh - Rs. 2 lakh depending on their breed. The smaller Tonga can range between Rs. 25,000 - Rs. 50,000 and the small horse suited for the Tonga can be bought between Rs. 10,000 and Rs. 25,000. Horses are brought from Bijapur and all the Sarots are from Patiala in Punjab. Nationalised banks grant loans to purchase these carriages.

UNIQUE AND ROYAL

Fayaz Ahmed, President of Horse-drawn Chariots Association, says Dasara draws visitors and Sarots are a favourite as they look unique and royal. He also adds that it is because of the royal family and their love for animals that they are still able to sustain and survive. The space provided opposite Palace's Varahaswamy Gate serves as a platform to draw tourists. He further adds that the City Police have been really helpful in running their business.

M. Murali, a tourist from Kerala, was excited after the Tonga ride. "I had heard of Mysore Dasara being special and it is for the first time I took the Tonga ride. These buggies look similar to the Victoria buggies of England. A Tonga ride through the Heritage City was a different experience," he recalls.

A RIDE WORTH IT

"I was advised by my friends not to miss the Tonga ride and my Tonga trip around the Palace and gazing at the illuminated streets and buildings was worth it. The Tonga had music system and colourful lights too which was an awesome experience," opines Subhash Babu, a tourist from Hyderabad.

Siraj, who has been steering a Sarot, says, "I charge Rs. 300-400 for a ride around the Palace and other heritage sites and during Dasara I charge extra as it takes a lot of time to complete the ride because of traffic. I earn around Rs. 1,000 to Rs. 1,500 per day and I spend around Rs. 350 for the maintenance of the horse. He further adds that he also provides carriage services to functions and marriages and charge between Rs. 1,500 to Rs. 5,000 depending on the time and distance.

SHAH PASAND TONGA

Apart from Sarot rides, some people still prefer the two-wheeled Shah Pasand Tonga that charges Rs. 150 to Rs. 200 per ride. These Tongas are found near the Palace's Balarama Gate, Varahaswamy Gate, Mysuru Zoo, St. Philomena's Church and Jaganmohan Palace. They are parked at the parking lots during the night which are provided by the Government near RMC, opposite Sub-urban bus stand and near Kalamandira.

Tongas get a makeover every year and the buggies get painted and seats changed if required. Doctor visits are arranged once in 2 months.

STRUGGLE IN OFF-SEASON

Like every business, even Tongawallas face problems once tourist season gets over and they have to manage their living with just a few rides during off season. Fayaz Ahmed expresses his disappointment and says that their request of sanctioning Tonga stands is still pending.

"There are several auto and bicycle stands around the city and our request for Tonga stands has fallen on deaf ears. Our horses get tired and thirsty, waiting for customers in scotching sun. I hope that our animals are provided with shelter stand and water facility," he says.

Siddappa, Secretary of Shah Pasand Tonga Association says, "Tourists from all over the country visit Mysuru to witness Dasara. Our Nada Habba is world famous and we make sure that every tourist experiences this joyful ride as we try and maintain the heritage culture."

"We plead to the Government to look into our requests and resolve them," he appeals. Siddappa is also disappointed as the uniforms and Mysore Peta which were provided to Tongawallas in the previous years ahead of Dasara, have been discontinued ▪

Prices of flowers, Ash Gourd soar

Mysuru, Oct. 6 (PM&RKB)- Flower, vegetable and fruit prices have soared ahead of Ayudha Puja and Vijayadashami. The prices of Ash Gourd and flowers, the most sought for Ayudha Puja, have almost doubled.

Ash Gourd at J.K. Grounds is being sold between at Rs. 30 and 70 depending on the size, while yellow chrysanthemum and mixed colour chrysanthemum flower is being sold at Rs. 70 to Rs. 80 a metre, Banana (Yelakki) at Rs. 80 to Rs. 100 per kg, marigold is sold at Rs. 50 a metre and a pair of banana stems is costing Rs. 15 to 20 depending on the length.

The price of flowers has risen sharply in Devaraja Market, where a metre of chrysanthemum is being sold at Rs. 40 to Rs. 80 a metre, which is almost double the price as compared to a couple of days ago.

Mirabel Rose is being sold at Rs. 280 to Rs. 300 per kg while Suganda Raja flower (tube rose) is sold at Rs. 400 per kg, coconut is being sold at Rs. 10 to Rs. 25 a piece while Jasmine is sold at Rs. 120 a metre.

At V.V. Market in Agrahara Circle, banana stems are in great demand, with a pair costing Rs. 40 to Rs. 60 depending on the length. Ash Gourd is being sold at Rs. 40 to Rs. 100 depending on the size, while chrysanthemum flower (both yellow and mixed colours) is being sold at Rs. 80 to Rs. 100 metre, button rose at Rs. 250 to Rs. 300 per kg and coconut at Rs. 20 to Rs. 35 a piece.

However, the prices of vegetables have seen only a marginal increase with carrot, beans, ladies finger costing Rs. 60 to Rs. 70 per kg, banana (Yelakki) at Rs. 100 per kg and banana (Cavendish) at Rs. 70 per kg. However, most of the vendors said that the price may go further up by evening as the stocks deplete.

Lemon is sold at Rs. 3 to 5 a piece in the markets. Some sellers said that the prices would have been higher had there been a short supply of the fruit. With regular lemon supplies, the price may remain the same throughout the festival. However, the people have some cheer as the prices of onion seem to have stabilised at Rs. 40 per kg, after touching Rs. 60 a few days ago.

10,000 Policemen to guard city

Each tree, drain, lanes, bylanes, culverts and signals are being checked since the last three days along the procession route. The route is being checked every three hours, DCP Muthuraj said. All the hotels, resorts, inns, homestays and service apartments have been asked to report their guests and also screen all their identities and behaviours with CCTV cameras. Any suspicious activities have to be reported to the Police, he added.

Apart from checking suspicious vehicles at all the entry and exit points, Mobile Command Centre is keeping a close watch on vehicle and people movements. Also in addition to the existing 58 CCTV cameras on the procession route, 110 more cameras have been installed till Dasara is over.

Drones have been banned and those government agencies who want to use the drones have to seek prior permission from the Police. All old buildings located on Jumboo Savari route will be locked to prevent people from climbing those weak structures that cannot handle pressure, he added.

Places including Devaraja Market, Sayyaji Rao Road, Chikka Gadiyara, J.K. Grounds Road, Dhanvantri Road, Valmiki Road, V.V. Puram, Vontikoppal, Nanjumalige Circle, Ballal Circle, Kuvempunagar Complex, Mandi Market, Akki Chowk, Agrahara, Bandipalya and M.G. Road witnessed moderate to heavy crowds. All these places are likely to witness more rush in the evening and tomorrow morning for last-minute purchases.

As part of Ayudha Puja rituals inside the Palace, titular head of Mysore Royal Family Yaduveer Krishnadatta Chamaraja Wadiyar will offer prayers to the royal armoury — swords, guns and daggers — of the Wadiyar dynasty. Royal horses and elephants will also be worshipped.

Delayed start of procession

This year, there will be a delayed Jumboo Savari inauguration on Oct. 8. It will be between 4.31 pm and 4.57 pm. Chief Minister B.S. Yediyurappa will inaugurate the procession (Jumboo Savari) at the Palace premises in the auspicious Kumbha Lagna between 4.31 pm and 4.57 pm on Oct. 8 in the presence of Yaduveer Krishnadatta Chamaraja Wadiyar as the chief guest. It may be recalled here that last year, the procession was inaugurated between 3.40 pm and 4.10 pm.

Prior to the Jumboo Savari inauguration, Nandi Dhwaja Puja will be performed at the Palace North Gate (Balarama Gate) between 2.15 pm and 2.58 pm in Makara Lagna. A host of dignitaries including Mysuru District Minister V. Somanna, Mayor Pushpalatha Jagannath and MLA S.A. Ramdas and others will be present.

After culmination of the procession, the Torchlight Parade will take place at the Torchlight Parade Ground in Bannimantap, with Governor Vajubhai R. Vala inaugurating the event at 7 pm.

Suvarna Pancha Kalasha Puja

Mysuru, Oct. 6 (BCT)- This year, the special attraction during the Nandi Dhwaja Puja that will be performed by CM Yediyurappa is the puja to Suvarna Pancha Kalasha donated by Sri Gowrishankar Nandi Dhwaja Sangha, Gowrishankar Nagar.

Speaking to Star of Mysore this morning, L. Mahadevappa (Udigala), President of the Sangha said that the Kalasha will be installed above the Nandi Dhwaja while the CM is performing the puja between 2.15 pm and 2.58 pm in Makara lagna on Oct. 8.

"This is for the first time such a Kalasha has been installed on the Nandi Dhwaja and we are doing it for the welfare of Karnataka and India. We are all ravaged by floods and are praying for Lord Shiva (signified by Nandi) to show mercy on people and bless us all," he said.

Final rehearsal for Jumboo Savari held

Mysuru, Oct. 6 (MTY&VNS) – With just two days left for the grand Dasara procession, the final rehearsal of Jumboo Savari was held successfully at Mysore Palace with Arjuna and other elephants passing the cannon test with ease.

In the rehearsal held this morning, Police Commissioner K.T. Balakrishna showered flowers to Howdah elephant Arjuna in the presence of DCP M. Muthuraj and CAR DCP Chennaiah. Arjuna was accompanied by Kumki elephants Vijaya and Kaveri.

While flower petals were being showered, the Police Band played the National Anthem and the personnel of CAR Special Team fired 21 rounds using seven cannons stationed near Bisilu Maramma Temple. One platoon each of Karnataka State Reserve Police (KSRP), District Armed Reserve (DAR), Railway Protection Force (RPF), Mounted Police -1 and Mounted Police -2, Karnataka Police Academy (KPA) and City Armed Reserve (CAR) took part in the rehearsal.

Today's rehearsal also saw 'Nishane Elephant' Balarama, 'Naupath Elephant' Abhimanyu also walking along with 'Salaane' Eshwara, Gopalaswamy, Lakshmi, Dhananjaya, Durgaparameshwari and Jayaprakash.

Speaking to media persons, City Police Commissioner K.T. Balakrishna, said that the final rehearsal was successful and added that the elephants, horses and others were fully prepared for the grand finale (procession) to be held on Oct.8.

"The procession which begins at 4.20 pm with Chief Minister B.S. Yediyurappa showering flower petals to the idol of Goddess Chamundeshwari kept inside the Golden Howdah will reach Bannimantap at about 6.30 pm," he added.

Jumboo Savari rehearsal will not be held tomorrow. However, Police personnel will conduct Torchlight Parade rehearsal at Bannimantap Grounds.

Mysuru: A Look at its Past...

By Gouri Satya, Sr.Journalist

Palace Durbar Hall, a concern

Mysore Palace is one of the most elegant buildings about which every Mysurean, nay, Indian should take pride. The fact that it has been drawing footfalls exceeding those visiting the world-famous Taj Mahal in Agra shows what a grand structure the Mysore Palace is. But the century-old structure is raising concern of recent. On Sept. 20, a small portion of the roof collapsed due to heavy downpour. It is also reported that there are numerous cracks on the roof and walls of the Palace and also leakage of water into the grand structure when it rains. All these reports raise doubts over the care and maintenance of the most prominent heritage structure of Mysuru.

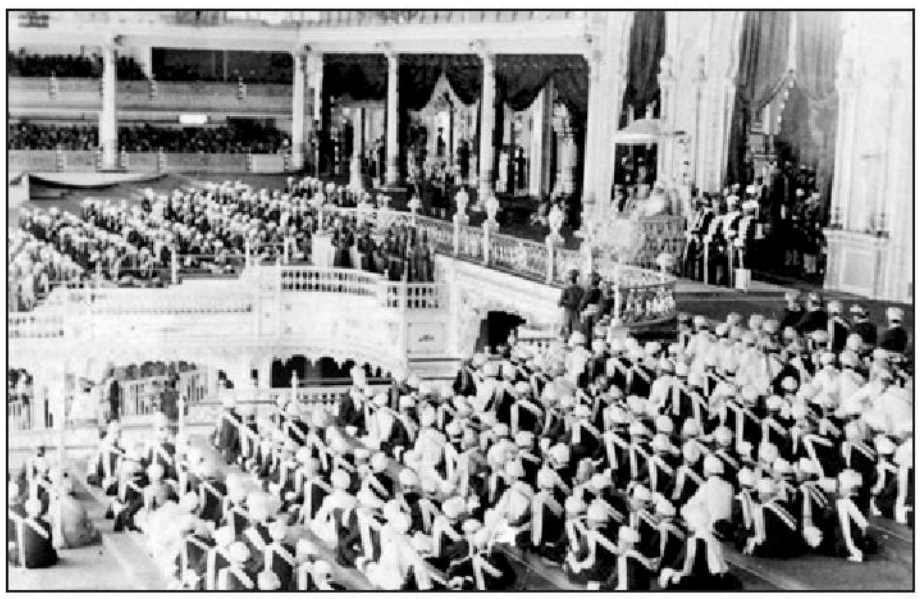
Those who have seen the grandeur of the Palace during the Dasara celebrations conducted by the last ruler of Mysore, Sri Jayachamaraja Wadiyar, will never forget what a beautiful sight it was. It was the sacred house where one of the holiest festivals, Navaratri, a nine-day ritual of worshipping the Goddess, was conducted with reverence by the Maharaja. The Durbar in the glittering hall was a sight, perhaps one could compare to the court of the Puranic God, Indra, as described in the Puranas. In fact, that is how Kannada poets, who have seen the grand celebrations of the Maharaja during their period, have described in their poetical narratives.

During the Durbar of the Maharaja, the Durbaries invited were chosen and limited. The courtiers went to the Palace with great respect and reverence to the Maharaja and his royal abode. They would not talk loudly but only whisper. The Palace officials ensured that everything was orderly, speaking in hushed tones. In spite of a number of Durbaries, the hall and the other portions of the Palace were maintained spic and span with utmost care. An annual upkeep a few weeks before Dasara was a regular exercise. Hence, there was very little reason for concern about the safety or sanctity of the place.

Soon after Jayachamaraja Wadiyar lost his royal status as Maharaja in 1970, he gave up holding his Durbar and the Dasara celebrations. The issue of invitations to prominent personalities of Mysuru to attend the royal ceremony was stopped. Similarly, the issue of passes for tourists on other days was also given up. The abolition of privy-purse the following year was a sudden blow to the Maharaja and placed him in financial distress raising issues he had not faced earlier. A large number of Palace staff was retrenched. The royal celebrations were discontinued.

When the Government began to sponsor the Dasara celebrations in 1975, the year after the passing away of Jayachamaraja Wadiyar, the Palace courtyard became the venue for launching the Dasara procession. Five years later, the Durbar Hall became the venue for music concerts. Only a limited number of people, mostly important personalities, were given invitations for these concerts. Generally, their number did not exceed around 600.

After a few years, concern began to be expressed about the safety of the Durbar Hall with so many people sitting in the royal hall. This became a major concern though there were other minor issues like disturbance caused to the renowned artistes while they were performing. Some people were leaving the hall during the performance and some others were talking to each other, instead of listening to the music. Musicians began to complain that their concentration was being affected.



Taking these factors into consideration, the venue was shifted to the open courtyard in 1991 to prevent damage to the structure. This also made possible for a large number of people to witness the Dasara concerts in front of the Palace.

The acquisition of the Palace by the State Government in 1998 gave a new dimension to the developments. The Palace was converted into a tourist attraction, with an eye on revenue. The rest of the things — either the importance of the Palace as an inviolable place where the Navaratri was conducted with reverence or its meticulous care by the Maharajas — took a back-seat. Attention turned towards drawing visitors in large numbers promoting the century-old structure as a tourist attraction.

In this changed scenario, where the grandeur and beauty of the Palace as one had seen during the reign of Jayachamaraja Wadiyar was lost, the Palace too lost its glory and prominence as a royal house of respect and reverence. Instead, today it has become a showpiece for tourists. Attention has turned towards commercial promotion of Palace as a 'must' place for tourists. It now draws around 9-10 thousand visitors daily. The highest number of visitors on a single day is said to be 36,000.

Added to this huge footfall, another recent development is of accommodating members of the judiciary and senior officials of higher level with their relatives, and the presence of Police personnel for security reasons in the Durbar Hall to witness the inauguration of Dasara procession. According to a report, their number is as high as about 2,000.

An outcome of allowing so many people into the 'Sejje' has led to one more problem — littering in the hall considered sacrosanct as rightly highlighted by the royal scion, Yaduveer Krishnadatta Chamaraja Wadiyar, on Instagram, after the inauguration of the Jumboo Savari procession in 2016, with a photo of the litter in the Durbar Hall.

His post reads: "The aftermath...We cannot take our cleanest city tag seriously when the very Icon of our city is treated in this manner. When will the people understand that the Durbar Hall is not a theatre? Never has anyone at any point been allowed to consume food at the Durbar Hall, let alone throw around their trash like in some theatre (Not that we should throw trash around in a theatre). We should understand at some point that we must preserve the sanctity of our sacred festival, our great city, and its landmarks. Hope this blatant disregard to our most sacred building is not an annual feature."

Speaking to this writer, Raja Chandra, son-in-law of Maharaja Jayachamaraja Wadiyar, voiced his concern in accommodating as many as 2,000 people in the "Sejje" and said: "I think a decade ago itself, based on an engineering report, events in the Durbar Hall were shifted down due to safety reasons. It is absurd and dangerous to allow as many as 2,000 people to sit at the same time. It should be opposed by all right-thinking people."

In the background of these developments, the time has come to think about the safety of the century-old grand Palace, while many other heritage structures have reached a stage of collapse due to lack of maintenance in Mysuru.

In many countries abroad, tourists are allowed into such heritage places in batches of specified numbers at specific intervals. Similarly, authorities should limit the number of visitors and allow them in batches at regular intervals into the Palace, opines a heritage expert. This staggered admission of visitors into the Palace would also avoid gathering of crowds in one place and help visitors see the artifacts easily. Besides, the Durbar Hall is of RBC (Reinforced brick-concrete) construction — a traditional technique using locally made high-quality bricks, stone chips, and lime mortar, unlike reinforced concrete terrace of the present day.

Conservation experts are of the opinion that a long-term conservation plan is urgently needed since the construction of the Palace is past a hundred years. Such a study should have been initiated about 30 years back alone. In fact, a suggestion to this effect had been made to Kumara Naik when he was the Deputy Commissioner of Mysuru, as he was also the Chairman of the Palace Board. He had shown keen interest in it. With reports of cracks on the walls and rainwater soaking some interior portions of the Palace, which might be causing damage to the strength of the structure, a long-term conservation study is urgently needed, taking into consideration all factors of the structure and the present condition. If the jewel of Mysuru is to be preserved for posterity, like the heritage structures in England and Europe which are being conserved and preserved since a couple of centuries, such a conservation study should be initiated by experts of a national and international-level without further delay, they opined.
